

INTO THE CAVE

AN EVENING OF LIVE MUSIC, STORY AND SHARED REFLECTION.

In the midst of pain, loss, grief and joy, music can give expression to what we can't find words for.

Few artists have shown this as openly as Nick Cave. After the deaths of two of his sons, Cave has written and sung about grief with rare honesty, naming the unsayable and making room for great suffering and great love to be held side by side.

Mark Mordue, author of Boy on Fire: The Young Nick Cave, gives the keynote, with songs and reflections from Fiona Dyball, Rebecca Hart and twice nominated ARIA singer-songwriter, Dingo Spender. Inspired by Cave's Red Hand Files, you'll be invited, if you wish, to bring a question, a memory or a hope of your own.

You don't need to be a Nick Cave fan, or religious. Come as you are.

FRIDAY 27 NOVEMBER | 7:30PM
